Primary Logo

X indicates the height of the logo text which is the minimum clear space (buffer) required around the logo. Other elements should not encroach on this area in order to allow the logo to breathe and to not dilute the master brand. The logo should only be used in Black or White and should not be stretched or manipulated.

We use two main typefaces, Trade Gothic and Proxima Nova to express the Dad Edge brand. The Trade Gothic typeface is used for Headings and in the logo and sub-brands. Proxima Nova is used for general text where multiple paragraphs or sections of text are shown such as in a brochure or website. Examples of both are shown below.

Sub-Brands

We regularly create logos/sub-brands to support initiatives which take place under the Dad Edge brand. These are in circle form and use the Centurion and a black background with various colors and text to differentiate each initiative. All of these use the brand colors and fonts. Some examples are shown below.
